"WHO HAS LIED" ASKS THE MAYOR

FINAL WORD IN THE CONTROVERSY—FACTS ABOUT PRINTING CHARTER.

AFFIDAVIT OF W. B. JONES, State of Oklahoma, Pontotoc County—ss.

W. B. Jones, having been first duly sworn, deposes and states as follows: "Mr. A. B. Yeager, Manager of the News Publishing & Printing Co., happened to be in my office during the time the question of the printing of the City Charter was pending before the City Council, and in discussing the matter I asked Mr. Yeager what it would cost the city to have same published, and he made an estimate of the number of lines it would take and stated that the price based upon that estimate, which was Four Cents per line, would amount to about Fifteen Hundred Dollars.

(SEAL) Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of October.

LESLIE PRINCE,

Notary Public.

My commission expires February 8, 1914.

AFFIDAVIT OF M. D. TIMBERLAKE, State of Oklahoma, Pontotoc County—ss.

M. D. Timberlake, having been first duly sworn deposes and states as follows:

That he was a member of the City Council for the year 1912 up until the adoption of the Commission Form of Government, and during the time the matter of printing the City Charter was pending before the council; that he had several talks with Mr. A. B. Yeager with reference to the price to be charged for that job, and states the facts to be as follows with references to the proposition made to him: Mr. Yeager offered to print the charter for the sum of Four Cents per line in the Ada Evening News, at which rate he figured the total to amount to the sum of $1,512.00 but agreed to allow a discount of 25 per cent off, leaving an amount of Eleven Hundred and Thirty Four Dollars. This price was based on 21 publications in the Evening News and estimating the Charter to contain 1800 lines.

M. D. TIMBERLAKE, (SEAL) Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of October, 1912.

W. B. JONES, Notary Public. My commission expires Dec. 10th, 1914.

Mr. Timberlake states in addition to the foregoing that the first figures made to him was Seventeen Hundred and some dollars, but he thought they were joking and that they never did yield to print same at a lower figure until they consulted their attorney.

State of Oklahoma, Pontotoc County—ss.

A. B. Yeager, Manager of the News

Publishing and Printing Co., being duly sworn upon oath deposes and says:

That when he was asked as to the cost of publishing the City Charter, he estimated that the Charter would contain 1800 lines, and that according to the contract the News had with the City, at 4 cents per line for 21 insertions in the Evening News, the amount would be $1,512, but later agreed, if the Council would insert the Charter in the Evening News for 21 times he would make the price 2 cents per line, or $756. That the matter was finally settled by publishing it in the Evening News three times at 4 cents per line, and three times in the Weekly free of charge. He further states that he did not make Mr. Timberlake a price of Seventeen Hundred and some dollars; nor did he refuse to print same for less than Seventeen Hundred and some dollars until he consulted an attorney.

A. B. YEAGER, (SEAL) Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of October, 1912.

H. P. SUGG, Notary Public. My commission expires Nov. 28, 1914.

The first two affidavits above appeared in the mayor's new daily paper, "Fits," and if anything, corroborates the statement the News made Saturday, and made at least once before to the effect that, if the News had received the contract price of 4c per line for publishing the city charter 21 times, it would have amounted to $1,512. Any one who can multiply can see that for himself, but neither of the affidavits say that the News even asked the city to come up to the terms of its contract. The mayor says he is willing for the city to decide who lied, and so is the News, for even according to Timberlake's affidavit, $1,125 was the most the paper ever asked. On the other hand, the mayor asserted last week that the price demanded was first $1,800, then $1,500 and so on down.

When reports concerning this matter were circulated during the campaign, the following item appeared in the News of March 21, and no member of the council ever contradicted it.

What the Charter Is Costing.

For the past week or two certain parties of the city have been throwing connotation fits over the cost of publishing the city charter, and have persistently circulated the statement that the News had held the city up for $1,500. Of course if these parties had really desired to ascertain the truth of the matter they could easily have done so, but it seems that the truth is the very thing they did not want. It suited their purpose better to malign the whole plan of charter government and the News than it did to learn the facts of the case.

As a matter of fact, if the city paid for this publication at the rate it has paid the News for several years past, which rate, by the way, is lower than charged regular advertisers, the cost would be somewhere around that mark, but the truth is that the manager of the News never once intimated that such a sum would be demanded, the contract notwithstanding. The real cost will be somewhere between $250 and $300 and this includes three publications in both daily and weekly, necessitating the issuance of four extra pages each time. A similar amount would cost the regular advertisers of the paper 557, from which it can be seen that the city is getting off very light indeed.

However, this whole business is mere buncombe. The News had a contract with the city under the terms of which it was to receive 4c per line for all legal publications, and if the paper had received the $1,512 for the work, there would have been no graft about it. It would have simply been nothing more nor less than what the council had agreed to pay and Mr. Timberlake was the principal member of the committee which negotiated the contract.

This discussion has gone a long way from the original subject which was about the lame ordinance against publishing and printing advertising matter for wrestling matches, which the mayor was apparently unable or unwilling to prevent. The public has not been fooled in the matter, however, for it was attempted in too clumsy a manner to cover up its intent and purpose.

The News has now thoroughly explained its side of the case, and knowing that the public now has enough of this controversy, will have nothing further to say on this phase of it. There are other things about the mayor's conduct that will need airing when the proper time comes which will not be later than January when the recall is applied.

WILL OPEN RECEIVING HOME AT CHICKASHA

M. E. Harris, superintendent of the Cornish Orphan Home, has moved to Chickasha and opened a Receiving Home for orphan children, which will be an adjunct of the Cornish institution. Mr. Harris gives as reasons for this move that Cornish is so far from railroad connections as to make it inconvenient to transport children to the home, before ascertaining whether or not they can be received, and the receiving home is established for the purpose of avoiding this trouble and expense.

Mr. Harris was in town Monday on his way to Cornish. He still has active supervision of the home and will make regular trips of inspection. Waurika News-Democrat.

Football Notes.

Eddie Harlan, the former Princeton star, is coaching the Johns Hopkins University eleven in Baltimore.

York, one of Yale's heavy guards, is a former tackle at Andover, and also put the shot for the track team. Annapolis has a very easy schedule this season, while West Point will meet both Yale and the Carlisle Indians.

Minnesota has lost Walker, the All-Western tackle of two seasons ago. He will play with the University of Virginia eleven.

Tonney, who scored Brown's touchdown against Harvard last year, will again be a member of the Brown eleven this season.

Senator Peffer Passes Away.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 7.—William A. Pfeffer, former United States senator from Kansas, died here early today.

He was elected by the first populist legislature in 1890. He was 81 years of age.

New Town Is Named Paris.

Randlett, Okla., Oct. 8.—The "New Jerusalem" townsite committee has selected Paris as the name of the new county seat of Cotton county, the election to determine which will be held on November 14. It had been decided once to name the town La Cruce, but another town in Oklahoma has the name of Cruce.

A site containing 220 acres has been selected for the town, which will be located immediately in the center of the county. Walters will make a hard fight to be chosen as the county seat.

Willard Patrons Club.

The patrons' club of Willard school will hold its next meeting Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the school building.

COUNTY PHYSICIANS HOLD MEETING

The Pontotoc County Medical Society held its first regular meeting yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m. in the Aldrich building.

Most of the local physicians were present, those attending outside of Ada were Dr. C. L. Orr of Roff, Dr. V. M. Wallace of Steedman, Dr. G. A. Akers of Franks, Okla.

The society initiated Dr. J. R. Craig of Ada, and Dr. G. A. Franks, after which papers were read and clinical cases were discussed. The social feature of the meeting was a smoker of which every member participated. The membership has increased rapidly, and will continue to do so, until the entire out of town physicians become members. The society meets regularly on the first Monday of each month, at 2 p. m. in the Aldrich Bldg. The members are taking great interest in the society and are making it one of the best county societies in the state.

Iowa Equal Suffrage Meet.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 8.—At a conference of the Iowa Equal Suffrage Association here today the preliminary steps were taken in what is intended to be the most active campaign that the women of the Hawkeye State have ever waged in an effort to secure the right of franchise. For the present the women will devote their efforts toward securing the election of those candidates for the legislature who have declared themselves favorable to the proposed suffrage amendment to the state constitution.

To Try Woman for Killing Husband.

Bedford, Ind., Oct. 8.—The case of Mrs. Maude Ping, charged with the murder of her husband several months ago, is to be called for trial tomorrow. The case has attracted considerable attention and the trial is awaited with much interest. Mrs. Ping is alleged to have shot and killed her husband James Ping, following a quarrel at the supper table. The woman then shot herself in an attempt at suicide, but recovered from her wounds and has since been confined in the county jail awaiting trial.

BUMPER CROPS ASSURED IN EVERY STATE

Chicago, Oct. 8.—"Never in the history of agriculture of the United States and Canada," says Mr. Charles R. Erwin, president of Lord & Thomas, advertising agents, Chicago and New York, "have there been such bumper crops over the entire country and continent. Some of the facts given to us by the publishers who collect the data for our Crop Report, give the yields of different crops as so high they seem exaggerated. We have taken special pains to see that the reports given to us were accurate."

In an interview with Mr. Erwin he stated that the general condition of the country was excellent. The only complaint the farmers have had is the scarcity of men. The country banks, especially, show a great increase in deposits; the farmers are buying automobiles in great numbers and are especially active in purchasing new and modern machinery for harvesting their crops, and in improving farm and household equipment.

A VERSATILE ACTOR COMING THURSDAY

In these days when the stage has many clever actors and few great ones it is very seldom that a creative genius is seen in the theatre. Critics and public alike are just beginning to realize that no one in the younger generation of actors has come forward more remarkably as an artistic player of wonderful possibility and versatility combined than Gilmore Brown. Three years ago Mr. Brown was utterly unknown in the theatrical world. Today he has one of the largest followings of any independent star on the road. His achievements in the intervening space of time have been varied and remarkable. He has given us a Shylock, a Petruchio and a Romeo that are wonderfully vivid, original and individual. His performances in "Strongheart," in "The Tyranny of Tears," in "David Garrick," "Ingomar" and "The Ironmaster" have shown his great capabilities in every line of character.

This season Mr. Brown will appear in the dual role of the King of Ruritania and Rudolph Rassendyl in "The Prisoner of Zenda" taken from Anthony Hope's world famous novel of the same name.—Ada Opera house Thursday, October 10.

Alabama Good Roads Convention.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 8.—The crusade for improved highways in this section of the South is likely to receive a renewed impetus as a result of the sixteenth annual convention of the Alabama Good Roads Association. Delegates from nearly every county of the state filled the city hall armory this morning when President John Craft called the gathering to order. W. W. Findley, president of the Southern Railway, delivered the leading address of the day. The subsequent sessions, which will continue over tomorrow and Thursday, will be addressed by United States Senator Bankhead and other men of prominence.

50th Anniversary of Perryville.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 8.—A reunion of the survivors of the battle of Perryville, which occurred just fifty years ago, on October 8, 1862, was held on the battlefield today. It was a reunion of the Blue and the Gray and from far and near the old warriors journeyed to the field to mingle together in peace and exchange fraternal greetings. Many Confederate Veterans of Kentucky and neighboring states were in attendance, while the army of the blue was represented by the surviving veterans of the Eightieth Indiana regiment, which had a conspicuous part in the battle.

The Senate Committee's investigation of campaign contributions has developed an accumulation of proof showing that the Third Term Candidate for president is the particular pet of the steel trust. In 1904 Morgan, the organizer of the steel trust contributed $100,000 to his campaign. Frick and Perkins were also large contributors. It is likely that at least a half a million of steel trust money was used in that campaign. Flinn, of Pittsburg, Political Agent of the steel trust, contributed more than a hundred thousand dollars to the primary campaign of the Third Term candidate this year. The Third Term Campaign is financed by Flinn, Perkins, Hanna and Munsey, all of them large holders of steel stock. But for the use of this steel trust money in the primary campaign the Third Term

HOW GEMS ARE IMITATED

Nature Copied With Remarkable Success by the Men Who Make Counterfeit Precious Stones.

The makers of imitation precious gems copy nature with remarkable success.

Zirconia are composed of zirconia. Their luster is deceptive, a means having been discovered of extracting the color, thus leaving them diamonds to all appearances, although their false nature promptly proclaims itself under test.

Precious stones are frequently dyed with such thoroughness that, it is said, the stone may be broken without discovery of the process—that is, by the uninitiated.

The village of Oberstein, in Germany, devotes itself to the making of imitation jewelry and the dyeing of chalcedony and other stones. The onyx, carnelian, bloodstone, and agate may be enriched in color by immersion in the dye-pot. The stones are placed in vessels containing the coloring matter and are then subjected to great heat for periods varying from a few hours to a week or more. In the case of chalcedony, which shows bands of different degrees of intensity, certain of the bands take the color and others do not. The stone then receives a further steaming in pots containing other dyes.

Fluorspar is capable of great improvement in that when subjected to a heating process and crucidolite is given a hue of blood-red by a similar method.

The emerald and the cat's-eye are of all stones the most easily imitated. One family at Oberstein is said to possess the secret of converting crucidolite into cat's-eye. Cat's-eye may also be made of aragonite, some of the hornblende and even of fibrous gypsum.—Harper's Weekly.

On a Lasting Strike.

A man in rags, who proved to be of good family and once a barrister at the court of Marseilles, was arrested in Paris the other morning for being without visible means of support. "Why don't you work?" he was asked by the magistrate. "I do not like work," was the ingenuous reply. The prisoner went on to say that although he was a lawyer in a good position, social obligations and the necessity of wearing good clothes became irksome to him twenty years ago. He left Marseilles, his family, his friends, and respectability to tramp the roads of France, where he could breathe, he says, as he could not breathe in the trammels of convention. After some years he got tired of tramping and enlisted in the Foreign Legion under a false name. He remained with the corps for ten years, and then came back to France to tramp the roads again, begging as he went. The magistrate offered to find this incurable vagabond food and lodging in a home, but he refused, and was therefore sent to prison.

Found Use for Sawdust.

In the consideration of a change from steam to electric drive in a St. Paul (Minn.) saw and box mill, the one stumbling block was the matter of the disposition of the sawdust accumulated about the machinery. Under the old system this was made use of under the boilers, and thus it saved the expense of fuel and of being carried away, but the problem was eventually solved by the erection of a storage house where the sawdust was stored in the shape of bales and disposed of during the winter, when it demanded a higher price than could be secured in the summer. In winter the material is in demand for bedding in stables. The change from steam to electricity proved to be a desirable one from every standpoint after the matter of the disposal of the refuse was solved in this manner.

For Invisible Writing.

There are several ways in which two persons can correspond with each other unknown to even the persons before whose eyes the very letter is held. For instance, new milk may be used as ink. When dried this is invisible, but if coal dust or soot be scattered upon the paper the writing becomes legible. Diluted sulphuric acid, lemon juice, solutions of nitrate and chloride of cobalt or of chloride of copper write colorless, but on being heated the characters written with the first two become black or brown, and the latter green. And when the paper becomes cool the writing disappears, leaving the paper blank again. Two good invisible inks are made by saltpeter dissolved in water and equal parts of sulphate of copper and sal ammoniac dissolved in water.—Answers.

Disagree as to Penmanship.

Today doctors in France agree in condemning the upright characters which the government has decreed must alone be taught, and with tender solicitude for the future of the children they point out that straight calligraphy is not tolerated in the business world, and that its use is a serious handicap. They are urging the government to return to the old system. Perhaps the most practical suggestion of all is that of a young doctor who would wish every child to do its lessons on a small typewriter provided by the state.

His Reason.

He—Dearest, during the first dance I have with you be sure to say something to me.
She—Why?
He—Because you're so light, if you don't speak I will not know I have you in my arms.—Princeton Tiger.

LOST WITH ALL ON BOARD

Many Ocean Liners Have Disappeared, Leaving No Survivor to Tell of the Disaster.

A writer in Chambers Journal recalls the number of vessels which have from time to time disappeared mysteriously, leaving not a single survivor to tell the story.

In the North Atlantic service alone, between 1841 and 1890, no fewer than 24 big steamers were totally blotted out of human knowledge, together with their crews and passengers, numbering 1,451. The President, with 138 souls on board, was the first of these to be lost forever in 1841. The City of Glasgow disappeared in 1854 without leaving a trace, and she had 480 souls on board. In 1856 the Pacific, with a living freight of 240, sailed from Liverpool in June, and was never more heard of. The Tempest, with 150 souls, mysteriously disappeared in 1859. The City of Boston, with 170 persons, vanished in 1870. The Huronian, an Allan liner, disappeared in 1902; and the British gunboat, Condor, was lost in the Pacific in 1901. In 1893 a cattle steamer, the Naronic, with 77 aboard, was lost.

As to the possible causes of the catastrophes, it is only possible to surmise. Capsizing, damage from within, such as explosion, breakdown of machinery, or fire; or damage from without, such as collision with an iceberg or with a derelict hulk, have all been suggested to explain the losses of vessels. The Captain capsized, and hundreds of lives were lost, and it is now generally assumed that the Warathah capsized by reason of top-heaviness. As to the damage to machinery, there is the case of the City of Paris, which had a big smash in one of her engine rooms in 1890. She was near the Irish coast, but though both engine rooms were filled with water in ten minutes, she was kept afloat owing to her watertight compartments for three days till help came to tow her into Queenstown. In the case of a fire, everything, probably, would be consumed to the water's edge, and if this happened far from land, the chances of rescue would be remote. Heavy weather and tidal waves with the older vessels, at any rate, were probably other reasons for shipwreck.

Tracing the Dog's Descent.

It seems to be generally accepted by naturalists and the world at large that the domestic dog is in some sense a collateral descendant of the wolf or jackal, says a writer in Harper's Weekly.

A professor at the Natural History Museum in Paris has communicated results of his study of various canine skulls to the academy of sciences. He appears to have noticed certain peculiarities of growth which have hitherto escaped zoologists. He states that the skull of almost every species of wolf and jackal differs from the skull of the shepherd dog to an extent that makes it impossible that this dog should belong in the same classification. The skull of the Indian wolf, on the contrary, shows some points of resemblance. This, indeed, is the only savage canine the top of whose head projects like that of the dog.

There are, moreover, other characteristics which the Indian wolf has in common with the dog, and which the ordinary wolf does not share with them, although his origin and that of the dog have long been supposed to be a common one.

The conclusion of this scientist is that the Indian wolf is the progenitor of the shepherd dog and the bloodhound. There were two primitive races of dogs analogous to these which were first domesticated in central Asia, whence they passed to Europe, and there seems no reason to doubt that the bloodhound of today is the direct descendant of the dog spoken of by the ancients as "the dog of the age of bronze."

Berlin's News of Waterloo.

There has just been published Blucher's dispatch which gave Berlin the first news of the victory of Waterloo. It was addressed to the governor, and read:

"I inform your excellency that in conjunction with the English army under Field Marshal the Duke of Wellington I yesterday gained the most complete victory over Napoleon Bonaparte that could possibly be won.

"The battle was fought in the neighborhood of some isolated buildings on the road from here to Brussels bearing the name 'La Belle Alliance,' and a better name can hardly be given to this important day. The French army is in complete dissolution and an extraordinary number of guns have been captured.

"Time does not at this moment permit me to send further details to your excellency. I reserve them for a future occasion and beg you duly to communicate this joyful news to the good Berliners.

The dispatch reached Berlin on June 24, 1812.—From London Globe.

Has Them All Beaten.

A fashion has sprung up among Paris taxicab drivers of exhibiting notices on their cabs, saying "The driver talks English," and the like. Fired by their example a negro taxicab driver, who was formerly chauffeur to the king of Siam in Bangkok, has affixed the following notice to his car: "I talk Siamese."

Had Just Tried It.

"Pa, what's a blue funk?"
"It's the thing a man who has never been camping before gets into about the second day out."

A Farewell Social.

On Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Bills in Sunrise, between the hours of 8 and 9 the members of the Christian church will meet their minister, Leroy M. Anderson and wife in a social hour. Mr. Anderson closes his pastorate in Ada Sunday going to Macon, Ga. The members of the church, the ministers of the several churches in the city and their congregations, the News force and all other friends of this estimable couple will be cordially welcomed to this in formal affair given in their honor.

DYNAMITER PLEADS GUILTY AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—Edward Clark of Cincinnati, today pleaded guilty to the government's charges in the dynamiting conspiracy.

As soon as court opened District Attorney Miller addressed Federal Judge Anderson.

"If it please the court, the defendant Clark, of Cincinnati, wishes to change his plea from 'not guilty' to 'guilty.'"

Clark then stepped forward. "Do you plead guilty?" asked Judge Anderson.

"I plead guilty," said Clark.

The prisoner was then separated from the other 45 defendants and taken to jail to await the imposing of his sentence. Clark pleaded guilty to all the charges—five counts of conspiracy and fifty counts of being a principal to the actual illegal interstate shipment of dynamite and nitro glycerine.

Clark was business agent and president of local union 44 of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers from January 1908 to July, 1911. His activities in promoting explosions, Mr. Miller asserted, were carried on through letters written by Frank M. Ryan, president of the union and the McNamara's. An ivory handled umbrella bearing the initials "E. C." found in the wreckage of a dynamited bridge at Dayton, Ohio, Mr. Miller said, led to the disclosure that Clark actually had caused the explosion, having used the umbrella to protect the dynamite from the rain and then leaving it behind.

Classified Advertising Divides This Paper's Readers Into Four Different Groups!

One group of readers will read all of the Situations Wanted Ads—because every person in that group is looking for a worker!

A second group of readers will read all of the Furnished Rooms To Let Ads—because every person in the group is looking for a furnished room.

A third group will read all of the Real Estate Ads—because every person in the group is a prospective buyer of real estate.

A fourth group will read all of the Business Opportunity Ads—because this group consists of people who MAKE THEIR MONEY WORK FOR THEM—and who are ALWAYS looking for GOOD JOBS FOR DOLLARS!

Thus every classification draws to itself a group of readers influenced by self-interests to everyone of whom that classification of ads means PERSONAL OPPORTUNITIES.

Your classified ad, therefore, has an audience awaiting it—an audience of alert people, anxious to consider your offer or your want, and to do business with you if your proposition is plausible.

"Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms"

All lovers must hold dear in their memory and secret within their hearts the name of Thomas Moore, for perhaps no other singer of sweet songs has played more upon the tender chords in the lovers' litanies than the Irish Bard, Tom Moore; and of all the songs, "Believe Me, if All Those Endearing Young Charms," is the sweetest that has been sung. In setting this beautiful melody to the canvas the Edison Company has handled it in a distinctly modern style, yet they retain all the poetical atmosphere of its theme. It is a story of devotion, a separation, caused by a woman's perfidy.

HIS SYMPATHIES WITH ELK

Somewhat Natural, Since Animal Rescued Engineer From Extremely Awkward Position.

A curious story of adventure comes from Montana. While a freight train was lying over at a small mountain station, the engineer borrowed a shotgun and started out for a short hunt. Finding nothing, he was returning to the train when a cow came running at him, and before he realized his danger, she tossed him in the air.

Getting to his feet as quickly as possible, he dodged behind a tree, and then, to his dismay, found that the gun barrel was bent so as to be useless. The next ten minutes were very lively ones, while the cow chased the engineer round and round the tree. Just when he was about to succumb from fatigue, an angry snort was heard, and a big elk appeared upon the scene, head down and prepared for a fight.

So was the cow, and in another moment the two animals dashed at each other. The engineer watched the combat for a few minutes, until prudence suggested that he should make a retreat as soon as he could. He regained the train in safety, and never knew the outcome of the battle, but he hopes the elk was the victor.

F. H. DAY TELLS OF FIFTEEN CENT COTTON

Monday evening F. H. Day, representing the Southern States Cotton Corporation, addressed a small audience of business men and farmers at the city hall in the interest of the organization. He presented the plan in a most clear and incisive manner and answered a number of questions put to him by those desiring full information. Mr. Day is a master of his subject, and knew every detail. He is still in the city and will meet with the farmers and business men again Saturday afternoon.

The News desiring to give its readers first hand information on this important subject of so handling the cotton crop that it will always bring 15c, has asked Mr. Day to prepare an article dealing with the subject. He has promised to do so, and in tomorrow's paper it is hoped that this article will appear.

MRS. STEPHEN B. AYRES
Corresponding Secretary of the Woman's National Democratic League.

The Women's National Democratic league, of which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wives of the leading Democratic candidates, are honorary president and honorary vice-president respectively, and Mrs. John S. Crosby is president, has opened headquarters at 1123 Broadway, New York city, in charge of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Stephen B. Ayres, wife of Congressman Ayres of New York.

The work being accomplished daily by Mrs. Ayres and her corps of stenographers and aids is not for the campaign moment only, but foundation building for the future of Democracy. It is the first strictly woman's national political movement to be organized in the United States and, as such, appeals to thinking women everywhere.

"It has not declared for or against the question of equal suffrage nor should it be expected to do so any more than it would discuss the questions of religion," said Mrs. Ayres from her post as "live wire" of the league. "We are simply good Democrats banded together for the greatest good to the greatest number of American housewives, who today are required to pay more in this country for American goods than they would have to pay for the same goods in a foreign land."

She is especially interested in the tariff on articles in constant feminine use and has developed into quite a speaker at the "housewives" meetings of the tariff committee of the national Democratic committee.

The Fuel Supply Needs Attention Only Three Times Each Day

The makers of Cole's Hot Blast Heater guarantee this stove to hold fire with soft coal 36 hours without attention. Your old stove and imitation stoves leak air and waste fuel because they are not air-tight, because they have putty joints.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

—by means of the patented Hot Blast Draft and other patented features which make it tight, doing away with the use of stove putty—requires less attention than any other heater made.

All fuel—Soft Coal, Hard Coal, Lignite, Wood or Corn Cobs—contains a large amount of gas. Fully one-half of the heating power (carbon) in soft coal is gas. This is the part of the fuel this wonderful heater saves, by burning it with the Top Hot Blast Draft. This makes Cole's Hot Blast Heater the most satisfactory, the most economical, the most convenient heater you can buy. Imitations and other styles of stoves allow this gas-half of the coal to pass up the chimney with the smoke, unburned.

Thousands of these stoves are in use and the sale continues to increase year after year.

This heater will give you more comfort than you ever thought possible by using any kind of a stove which uses soft coal for fuel.

Right now is the time to decide and select the size you should have. Come in and see complete line of styles and sizes.

"War of Wealth Against Health."

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley declares the most important campaign document yet issued by the Democratic National Committee is a booklet prepared for the Woman's National Wilson and Marshall Organization. It discloses some new and startling facts in connection with the long fight for pure food. It shows how the efforts of the Bureau on Pure Food were blocked by the administration of both Roosevelt and Taft. These booklets are going to be distributed this year throughout the country by the Democratic National Committee.

In the booklet Mrs. Borden Harriman, President of the National Organization, makes a strong appeal to the women of the country, in which she says:

"No subject is more vital to women than health in the home. No function is so essentially the women's function as the protection of the food supply, the protection of sanitary and hygienic working conditions and the general conservation of human life. I therefore appeal to the patriotic women of America for their active participation in the present great fight which is being waged by the Wilson and Marshall campaign in behalf of these measures."

The General Federation of Women's clubs at the biennial conference held June 26-July 6, declared that "the administration of the Department of Agriculture has been and is such that at present the law is prostituted for the benefit of the special interests, and the welfare of the people is ignored," and adopted a resolution calling upon the President to "so organize the department that the Food and Drug Act shall in future be honestly administered in the interest of the consumers of the nation."

The operations of the "Invisible Government" in permitting the adulterators of food to go unprosecuted and thus protecting the interests, is reviewed, and the situation is summed up as follows:

"The law as passed by Congress was intended to be administered in the interest of the consumer. The law as modified by the executive orders of President Roosevelt and President Taft is devoted almost exclusively to the protection of the pocketbook of the producer, showing the triumph of mercenary interests over the welfare of the public."

Old Methods of Rubber Gathering Cost Many Lives.

Peru Failed to Keep Promises Made—Second Paper by Sir Roger Casement Shows Appeals for Reform Have Been Ignored.

London.—A sensational second chapter in the expose by Sir Roger Casement, the British consul-general at Rio Janeiro, who was sent by the British government to the Amazon to investigate stories of outrages on natives in the rubber district, came out recently in the shape of a supplementary report to the foreign office, which shows that there has been practically a total failure on the part of the Peruvian government to respond to the demand for a reform of the rubber atrocities in the Putumayo district, says a London cable.

A mass of official correspondence, which also was filed, completes the story and indicates generally the cordial co-operation of the state department at Washington with the British foreign office to secure a remedy for the abuses.

The second Casement report indicates that Peru not only did nothing, but seemed to have no intention of taking any action. All the measures taken by that government were dilatory and feeble and wholly ineffective.

None of the reforms promised by Peru, according to Sir Roger's report, has been carried out. The civilized methods of the plantation have been abandoned and the old rubber collecting methods resumed. The returns show that the 12,000 tons of rubber collected in 12 years produced from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000 and entailed the death of 30,000 Indians, whose bones are scattered through the forest and have made certain places resemble battlefields.

The responsibility for this, according to Sir Roger, is strictly British, as the whole output of the region is placed on the English market and conveyed from Iquitos in British bottoms. Some employers are British subjects and the commercial future of the district is dependent on British capital.

In July Sir Edward Grey, after soliciting the co-operation of the United States, pressed Peru harder not only to punish the criminals, but to enact legislation making slavery a criminal offense. The president of Peru was reminded of his treaty obligations to Great Britain and was also urged to establish a religious mission in the Putumayo district, with headquarters in Iquitos, with government backing and a substantial subsidy.

Just about this time the United States stepped in and brought pressure to bear on Peru. On June 25, 1911, Dr. Paredes, the head of the Peruvian investigation commission, confirmed all the atrocity stories. Two hundred and fifteen arrest warrants were issued, but there were only four arrests. All the others had naturally used the six months' delay to vanish.

The United States at this period was actively urging Peru to realize the reforms. Strong representations made in February, 1912, met with general professions of good intentions by the president of Peru, but the government of that country sought new delay by appointing a new commission to reorganize the administration of the Putumayo district, with orders to report on June 28, 1912. The commission, however, was stillborn, the members refusing to serve. For this reason the patience of the American and British governments finally was exhausted and they decided to appeal to the public sentiment of the world through the publication of Sir Roger Casement's reports.

PEARL BRINGS INDIAN $660

Redskin Sells One Weighing 33½ Grains to Marshalltown (Iowa) Dealer.

Marshalltown, Iowa.—Little Big Bear, an Indian from the Meskwaki reservation near Tama, Iowa, sold to a dealer here a pink pear-shaped pearl weighing 33½ grains for $660. Little Big Bear found the pearl in the Iowa river near Iowa City. The Indian also sold to the dealer a round pearl found in the same place for $60. Samuel S. Starr of Waverly sold here a 19½ grain pearl, found in the Cedar river, for $410.

Centipede In Her Stomach, Lindsay, Cal.—A live centipede that had been in her stomach for four years was coughed up recently by Mrs. J. A. Means of this city. Mrs. Means had been ill for some time and was dressing to visit a doctor when taken with a coughing spell, during which she brought up the insect.

The centipede was about two inches long. While traveling in Arizona four years ago Mrs. Means drank from a brook and was made ill by something she swallowed. She believes that she has carried the centipede since that time. She has been sick constantly and has spent large sums of money seeking relief.

Since coughing up the insect her neck has been reduced 2½ inches in circumference and her health has much improved.

Novice "Turned Something." Chicago.—W. C. Robinson, student aviator, was taking his instructor's machine to the hangar. The novice "turned something" and was forced to fly for 15 minutes before he could land and stop the thing.

Chronic Ulcers Mean Bad Blood

If outside influences were responsible for chronic ulcers, then external applications and simple cleanliness would be a curative treatment. But the trouble is always in the blood which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and infectious matter with which the circulation is filled. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made purer by such treatment and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. Nor will removing the place by surgical operation insure a cure; the cause still remains in the blood and the sore is bound to return. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down into the blood and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. S. S. S. thoroughly purifies the circulation and in this way destroys the source of every chronic ulcer. In addition to purifying the blood coming the bad effects of a chronic ulcer. American Board Meeting.

Portland, Me., Oct. 8.—The 103rd annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions was opened in the Williston Congregational church here this afternoon with an address of welcome by Rev. Jesse Hill of Portland and a response by Dr. Samuel E. Capen of Boston, president of the board. Upwards of 400 missionaries, Congregational preachers and laymen from all parts of the country were in attendance. Following the exchange of greetings the convention listened to the annual reports of Treasurer Frank H. Higgin and Secretary Cornellus H. Patton and the annual survey of missions presented by Rev. James L. Barton. The reports showed the past year to have been one of activity and prosperity in all departments of the work conducted by the board. The total cash receipts of the year were $1,003,025, which just about equaled the figures of the preceding year. The meeting of the board will continue four days. Many noted missionaries recently returned from foreign fields are here to address the gathering.

Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers" RAMSEY DRUG CO.

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's honor and guarantee, backed by ourselves, you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our customers if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell, all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this if you are suffering from any rash or itchy skin, eczema, psoriasis, or any other skin trouble, try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription. And, if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin takes away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now on our positive no-pay guarantee.

"WHO HAS LIED" ASKS THE MAYOR

FINAL WORD IN THE CONTROVERSY—FACTS ABOUT PRINTING CHARTER.

AFFIDAVIT OF W. B. JONES, State of Oklahoma, Pontotoc County—ss.

W. B. Jones, having been first duly sworn, deposes and states as follows: "Mr. A. B. Yeager, Manager of the News Publishing & Printing Co., happened to be in my office during the time the question of the printing of the City Charter was pending before the City Council, and in discussing the matter I asked Mr. Yeager what it would cost the city to have same published, and he made an estimate of the number of lines it would take and stated that the price based upon that estimate, which was Four Cents per line, would amount to about Fifteen Hundred Dollars.

(SEAL) Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of October, 1914.

My commission expires February 8, 1914.

AFFIDAVIT OF M. D. TIMBERLAKE, State of Oklahoma, Pontotoc County—ss.

M. D. Timberlake, having first been duly sworn deposes and states as follows:

That he was a member of the City Council for the year 1912 up until the adoption of the Commission Form of Government, and during the time the matter of printing the City Charter was pending before the council; that he had several talks with Mr. A. B. Yeager with reference to the price to be charged for that job, and states the facts to be as follows with references to the proposition made to him: Mr. Yeager offered to print the charter for the sum of Four Cents per line in the Ada Evening News, at which rate he figured the total to amount to the sum of $1,512.00 but agreed to allow a discount of 25 per cent off, leaving an amount of Eleven Hundred and Thirty Four Dollars. This price was based on 21 publications in the Evening News and estimating the Charter to contain 1800 lines.

M. D. TIMBERLAKE, (SEAL) Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of October, 1912. W. B. JONES, Notary Public. My commission expires Dec. 10th, 1914.

Mr. Timberlake states in addition to the foregoing that the first figures made to him was Seventeen Hundred and some dollars, but he thought they were joking and that they never did yield to print same at a lower figure until they consulted their attorney.

State of Oklahoma, Pontotoc County—ss.

A. B. Yeager, Manager of the News

Publishing and Printing Co., being duly sworn upon oath deposes and says:

That when he was asked as to the cost of publishing the City Charter, he estimated that the Charter would contain 1800 lines, and that according to the contract the News had with the City, at 4 cents per line for 21 insertions in the Evening News, the amount would be $1512, but later agreed, if the Council would insert the Charter in the Evening News for 21 times he would make the price 2 cents per line, or $756. That the matter was finally settled by publishing it in the Evening News three times at 4 cents per line, and three times in the Weekly Free of charge. He further states that he did not make Mr. Timberlake a price of Seventeen Hundred and some dollars; nor did he refuse to print same for less than Seventeen Hundred and some dollars until he consulted an attorney.

(SEAL) A. B. YEAGER. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of October, 1912.

H. P. SUGG, Notary Public. My commission expires Nov. 28, 1914.

The first two affidavits above appeared in the mayor's new daily paper, "Fits," and if anything, corroborates the statement the News made Saturday, and made at least once before to the effect that, if the News had received the contract price of 4c per line for publishing the city charter 21 times, it would have amounted to $1,512. Any one who can multiply can see that for himself, but neither of the affidavits say that the News even asked the city to come up to the terms of its contract. The mayor says he is willing for the city to decide who lied, and so is the News, for even according to Timberlake's affidavit, $1,125 was the most the paper ever asked. On the other hand, the mayor asserted last week that the price demanded was first $1,800, then $1,500 and so on down.

When reports concerning this matter were circulated during the campaign, the following item appeared in the News of March 21, and no member of the council ever contradicted it:

What the Charter Is Costing.

For the past week or two certain parties of the city have been throwing connotation fits over the cost of publishing the city charter, and have persistently circulated the statement that the News had held the city up for $1,500. Of course if these parties had really desired to ascertain the truth of the matter they could easily have done so, but it seems that the truth is the very thing they did not want. It suited their purpose better to malign the whole plan of charter government and the News than it did to learn the facts of the case.

As a matter of fact, if the city paid for this publication at the rate it has paid the News for several years past, which rate, by the way, is lower than charged regular advertisers, the cost would be somewhere around that mark, but the truth is that the manager of the News never once intimated that such a sum would be demanded, the contract notwithstanding. The real cost will be somewhere between $250 and $300 and this includes three publications in both daily and weekly, necessitating the issuance of four extra pages each time. A similar amount would cost the regular advertisers of the paper 557, from which it can be seen that the city is getting off very light indeed.

However, this whole business is mere buncombe. The News had a contract with the city under the terms of which it was to receive 4c per line for all legal publications, and if the paper had received the $1,512 for the work, there would have been no graft about it. It would have been nothing more nor less than what the council had agreed to pay and Mr. Timberlake was the principal member of the committee which negotiated the contract.

This discussion has gone a long way from the original subject which was about the lame ordinance against publishing and printing advertising matter for wrestling matches, which the mayor was apparently unable or unwilling to prevent. The public has not been fooled in the matter, however, for it was attempted in too clumsy a manner to cover up its intent and purpose.

The News has now thoroughly explained its side of the case, and knowing that the public now has enough of this controversy, will have nothing further to say on this phase of it. There are other things about the mayor's conduct that will need airing when the proper time comes which will not be later than January when the recall is applied.

WILL OPEN RECEIVING HOME AT CHICKASHA

M. E. Harris, superintendent of the Cornish Orphan Home, has moved to Chickasha and opened a Receiving Home for orphan children, which will be an adjunct of the Cornish institution. Mr. Harris gives as reasons for this move that Cornish is so far from railroad connections as to make it inconvenient to transport children to the home before ascertaining whether or not they can be received, and the receiving home is established for the purpose of avoiding this trouble and expense.

Mr. Harris was in town Monday on his way to Cornish. He still has active supervision of the home and will make regular trips of inspection. Waurika News-Democrat.

New Town Is Named Paris.

Randlett, Okla., Oct. 8.—The "New Jerusalem" townsite committee has selected Paris as the name of the new county seat of Cotton county, the election to determine which will be held on November 14. It had been decided once to name the town La Cruce, but another town in Oklahoma has the name of Cruce.

A site containing 220 acres has been selected for the town, which will be located immediately in the center of the county. Walters will make a hard fight to be chosen as the county seat.

COUNTY PHYSICIANS HOLD MEETING

The Pontotoc County Medical Society held its first regular meeting yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m. in the Aldrich building.

Most of the local physicians were present, those attending outside of Ada were Dr. C. E. Orr of Roff, Dr. V. M. Wallace of Stillman, Dr. G. A. Akers of Franks, Okla.

The society initiated Dr. J. R. Craig of Ada, and Dr. G. A. Franks, after which papers were read and clinical cases were discussed. The social feature of the meeting was a smoker of which every member participated. The membership has increased rapidly, and will continue to do so, until the ranks out of town physicians become members. The society meets regularly on the first Monday of each month, at 2 p. m. in the Aldrich Bldg. The members are taking great interest in the society and are making it one of the best county societies in the state.

To Try Woman for Killing Husband.

Bedford, Ind., Oct. 8.—The case of Mrs. Maudie Ping, charged with the murder of her husband several months ago, is to be called for trial tomorrow. The case has attracted considerable attention and the trial is awaited with much interest. Mrs. Ping is alleged to have shot and killed her husband James Ping, following a quarrel at the supper table. The woman then shot herself in an attempt at suicide, but recovered from her wounds and has since been confined in the county jail awaiting trial.

BUMPER CROPS ASSURED IN EVERY STATE

Chicago, Oct. 8.—"Never in the history of agriculture of the United States and Canada," says Mr. Charles R. Erwin, president of Lord & Thomas, advertising agents, Chicago and New York, "have there been such bumper crops over the entire country and continent. Some of the facts given to us by the publishers who collect the data for our Crop Report, give the yields of different crops as so high they seem exaggerated. We have taken special pains to see that the reports given to us were accurate."

In an interview with Mr. Erwin he stated that the general condition of the country was excellent. The only complaint the farmers have had is the scarcity of men. The country banks, especially, show a great increase in deposits; the farmers are buying automobiles in great numbers and are especially active in purchasing new and modern machinery for harvesting their crops, and in improving farm and household equipment.

A VERSATILE ACTOR COMING THURSDAY

In these days when the stage has many clever actors and few great ones it is very seldom that a creative genius is seen in the theatre. Critics and public alike are just beginning to realize that no one in the younger generation of actors has come forward more remarkably as an artistic player of wonderful possibility and versatility combined than Gilmore Brown. Three years ago Mr. Brown was utterly unknown in the theatrical world. Today he has one of the largest followings of any independent star on the road. His achievements in the intervening space of time have been varied and remarkable. He has given us a Shylock, a Petruchio and a Romeo that are wonderfully vivid, original and individual. His performances in "Strongheart," in "The Tyranny of Tears," in "David Garrick," "Ingomar" and "The Ironmaster" have shown his great capabilities in every line of character.

This season Mr. Brown will appear in the dual role of the King of Ruritania and Rudolph Rassendyl in "The Prisoner of Zenda" taken from Anthony Hope's world famous novel of the same name.—Ada Opera house Thursday, October 10.

Useful Accomplishments.
Every woman wants a cozy corner all her own—be that corner humble or handsome.
Every woman who does not have the home longing is abnormal. Home is made up of little things.
One of the largest of these little things is the ability to cook wholesome food.
Sewing and music are next. A woman might be as homely as can be, but if she can cook a good dinner, make a dress, and let her moods slip out of her finger tips on a piano, that woman will have a chance for a truly happy home a thousand per cent better than her beautiful neighbor who cannot make even an apron, and who cooks badly for her family.
So I say to mothers, whether you have money or not, teach your daughters all the useful and necessary things in life, so that they will make good, homelike wives and mothers.

HOW GEMS ARE IMITATED

Nature Copied With Remarkable Success by the Men Who Make Counterfeit Precious Stones.

The makers of imitation precious gems copy nature with remarkable success.
Zirconia are composed of zircons. Their luster is deceptive, a means having been discovered of extracting the color, thus leaving them diamonds to all appearances, although their false nature promptly proclaims itself under test.

Precious stones are frequently dyed with such thoroughness that, it is said, the stone may be broken without discovery of the process—that is, by the uninitiated.

The village of Oberstein, in Germany, devotes itself to the making of imitation jewelry and the dyeing of chalcedony and other stones. The onyx, carnelian, bloodstone, and agate may be enriched in color by immersion in the dye-pot. The stones are placed in vessels containing the coloring matter and are then subjected to great heat for periods varying from a few hours to a week or more. In the case of chalcedony, which shows bands of different degrees of intensity, certain of the bands take the color and others do not. The stone then receives a further staining in pots containing other dyes.

Fluorspar is capable of great improvement in tint when subjected to a heating process and crucible is given a hue of blood-red by a similar method.

The emerald and the cat's-eye are of all stones the most easily imitated. One family at Oberstein is said to possess the secret of converting crucible into cat's-eye. Cat's-eye may also be made of argentine, some of the hornblende and even of fibrous gypsum.—Harper's Weekly.

On a Lasting Strike.
A man in rage, who proved to be of good family and once a barrister at the court of Marseilles, was arrested in Paris the other morning for being without visible means of support. "Why don't you work?" he was asked by the magistrate. "I do not like work," was the ingenious reply. The prisoner went on to say that although he was a lawyer in a good position, social obligations and the necessity of wearing good clothes became irksome to him twenty years ago. He left Marseilles, his family, his friends, and respectability to tramp the roads of France, where he could breathe, he says, as he could not breathe in the trammels of convention. After some years he got tired of tramping and enlisted in the Foreign Legion under a false name. He remained with the corps for ten years, and then came back to France to tramp the roads again, begging as he went. The magistrate offered to find this incurable vagabond food and lodging in a home, but he refused, and was therefore sent to prison.

Found Use for Sawdust.
In the consideration of a change from steam to electric drive in a St. Paul (Minn.) saw and box mill, the one stumbling block was the matter of the disposition of the sawdust accumulated about the machinery. Under the old system this was made use of under the boilers, and thus it saved the expense of fuel and of being carried away, but the problem was eventually solved by the erection of a storage house where the sawdust was stored in the shape of bales and disposed of during the winter, when it demanded a higher price than could be secured in the summer. In winter the material is in demand for bedding in stables. The change from steam to electricity proved to be a desirable one from every standpoint after the matter of the disposal of the refuse was solved in this manner.

For Invisible Writing.
There are several ways in which two persons can correspond with each other unknown to even the persons before whose eyes the very letter is held. For instance, new milk may be used as ink. When dried this is invisible, but if coal dust or soot be scattered upon the paper the writing becomes legible. Diluted sulphuric acid, lemon juice, solutions of nitrate and chloride of cobalt or of chloride of copper write colorless, but on being heated the characters written with the first two become black or brown, and the latter green. And when the paper becomes cool the writing disappears, leaving the paper blank again. Two good invisible inks are made by saltpeter dissolved in water and equal parts of sulphate of copper and sal ammoniac dissolved in water.—Answers.

Disagree as to Panmanship.
Today doctors in France agree in condemning the upright characters which the government has decreed must alone be taught, and with tender solicitude for the future of the children they point out that straight calligraphy is not tolerated in the business world, and that its use is a serious handicap. They are urging the government to return to the old system. Perhaps the most practical suggestion of all is that of a young doctor who would wish every child to do its lessons on a small typewriter provided by the state.

His Reason.
He—Dearest, during the first dance I have with you be sure to say something to me.
She—Why?
He—Because you're so light, if you don't speak I will not know I have you in my arms.—Princeton Tiger.

LIVER BUTTONS

FROM HOT SPRINGS

Really Marvelous Remedy for Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache.

Elderly people, especially are finding to their great joy that there is nothing on earth so good to aid the bowels and keep the stomach, bowels and liver in tip-top condition as Hot Springs Liver Buttons.

They are surely true laxatives; they not only keep the bowels in prime shape without discomfort, but the tone up the system, purify the blood, turn sallow, pimply skin into clear, healthy skin, and banish despondency or the blues.

Use the wonderful Hot Springs Liver Buttons also for indigestion, torpid liver, nervousness, dizziness etc., and you will have no use for ordinary cathartics and purgatives. 25c a box at all good drug stores. For free sample, write Hot Springs Chemical Co., Hot Springs, Ark.

AUTO PRIZE DONATED TO CONFEDERATES

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Chaney, whose auto was awarded the $5 prize in the veterans' parade at the recent reunion, have very magnanimously donated this money to the relief fund of the local camp. As the camp has many calls, this sum will enable it to make the lot of some distressed comrade easier for the time being.

All you who have torpid liver, weak digestion or constipated bowels look out for chills. The season is here and the air is full of disease germs. The best thing to do is to get your liver in good condition and purify the stomach and bowels. HERBINE is the right remedy; it answers the purpose completely. Price 50c. Sold by the Ramsey Drug Company.

LOST WITH ALL ON BOARD

Many Ocean Liners Have Disappeared, Leaving No Survivor to Tell of the Disaster.

A writer in Chambers Journal recalls the number of vessels which have from time to time disappeared mysteriously, leaving not a single survivor to tell the story.

In the North Atlantic service alone, between 1841 and 1890, no fewer than 24 big steamers were totally blotted out of human knowledge, together with their crews and passengers, numbering 1,451. The President, with 138 souls on board, was the first of these to be lost forever in 1841. The City of Glasgow disappeared in 1864 without leaving a trace, and she had 480 souls on board. In 1866 the Pacific, with a living freight of 240, sailed from Liverpool in June, and was never more heard of. The Tempest, with 150 souls, mysteriously disappeared in 1869. The City of Boston, with 170 persons, vanished in 1870. The Huerfania, an Allan liner, disappeared in 1902; and the British gunboat, Concor, was lost in the Pacific in 1901. In 1893 a cattle steamer, the Naronio, with 77 aboard, was lost.

As to the possible causes of the catastrophes, it is only possible to surmise. Capsizing, damage from within, such as explosion, breakdown of machinery, or fire; or damage from without, such as collision with an iceberg or with a derelict hulk, have all been suggested to explain the losses of vessels. The Captain capized, and hundreds of lives were lost, and it is now generally assumed that the Waratah capized by reason of top-heaviness. As to the damage to machinery, there is the case of the City of Paris, which had a big smash in one of her engine rooms in 1890. She was near the Irish coast, but though both engine rooms were filled with water in ten minutes, she was kept afloat owing to her watertight compartments for three days till help came to tow her into Queenstown. In the case of a fire, everything, probably, would be consumed to the water's edge, and if this happened far from land, the chances of rescue would be remote. Heavy weather and tidal waves with the older vessels, at any rate, were probably other reasons for shipwreck.

Tracing the Dog's Descent.
It seems to be generally accepted by naturalists and the world at large that the domestic dog is in some sense a collateral descendant of the wolf or jackal, says a writer in Harper's Weekly.

A professor at the Natural History Museum in Paris has communicated results of his study of various canine skulls to the academy of sciences. He appears to have noticed certain peculiarities of growth which have hitherto escaped zoologists. He states that the skull of almost every species of wolf and jackal differs from the skull of the shepherd dog to an extent that makes it impossible that this dog should belong in the same classification. The skull of the Indian wolf, on the contrary, shows some points of resemblance. This, indeed, is the only savage canine the top of whose head projects like that of the dog.

There are, moreover, other characteristics which the Indian wolf has in common with the dog, and which the ordinary wolf does not share with them, although his origin and that of the dog have long been supposed to be a common one.
The conclusion of this scientist is that the Indian wolf is the progenitor of the shepherd dog and the bloodhound. There were two primitive races of dogs analogous to these which were first domesticated in central Asia, whence they passed to Europe, and there seems no reason to doubt that the bloodhound of today is the direct descendant of the dog spoken of by the ancients as "the dog of the age of bronze."

Berlin's News of Waterloo.
There has just been published Blucher's dispatch which gave Berlin the first news of the victory of Waterloo. It was addressed to the governor, and read:

"I inform your excellency that in conjunction with the English army under Field Marshal the Duke of Wellington I yesterday gained the most complete victory over Napoleon Bonaparte that could possibly be won.

"The battle was fought in the neighborhood of some isolated buildings on the road from here to Brussels bearing the name 'La Belle Alliance,' and a better name can hardly be given to this important day. The French army is in complete dissolution and an extraordinary number of guns have been captured.

"Time does not at this moment permit me to send further details to your excellency. I reserve them for a future occasion and beg you duly to communicate this joyful news to the good Berliners. BLUCHER."

The dispatch reached Berlin on June 24, 1812.—From London Globe.

Has Them All Beaten.
A fashion has sprung up among Paris taxicab drivers of exhibiting notices on their cabs, saying "The driver talks German," "The driver talks English," and the like. Fired by their example a negro taxicab driver, who was formerly chauffeur to the king of Siam in Bangkok, has affixed the following notice to his car: "I talk Siamese."

DYNAMITER PLEADS GUILTY AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—Edward Clark of Cincinnati, today pleaded guilty to the government's charges in the dynamiting conspiracy.

As soon as court opened District Attorney Miller addressed Federal Judge Anderson.

"If it please the court, the defendant, Clark, of Cincinnati, wishes to change his plea from 'not guilty' to 'guilty'."

Clark then stepped forward. "Do you plead guilty?" asked Judge Anderson.

"I plead guilty," said Clark.

The prisoner was then separated from the other 45 defendants and taken to jail to await the imposing of his sentence. Clark pleaded guilty to all the charges—five counts of conspiracy and fifty counts of being a principal to the actual illegal interstate shipment of dynamite and nitro glycerine.

Clark was business agent and president of local union 41 of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers from January 1908 to July, 1911. His activities in promoting explosions, Mr. Miller asserted, were carried on through letters written by Frank M. Ryan, president of the union and the McNamara's. An ivory handled umbrella bearing the initials "E. C." found in the wreckage of a dynamited bridge at Dayton, Ohio, Mr. Miller said, led to the disclosure that Clark actually had caused the explosion, having used the umbrella to protect the dynamite from the rain and then leaving it behind.

"Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms"

All lovers must hold dear in their memory and secret within their hearts the name of Thomas Moore, for perhaps no other singer of sweet songs has played more upon the tender chords in the lovers' litanies than the Irish Bard, Tom Moore; and of all the songs, "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" is the sweetest that has been sung. In setting this beautiful melody to the canvas the Edison Company has handled it in a distinctly modern style, yet they retain all the poetical atmosphere of its theme. It is a story of devotion, a separation, caused by a woman's perfidy.

HIS SYMPATHIES WITH ELK
Somewhat Natural, Since Animal Rescued Engineer From Extremely Awkward Position.

A curious story of adventure comes from Montana. While a freight train was lying over at a small mountain station, the engineer borrowed a shotgun and started out for a short hunt. Finding nothing, he was returning to the train when a cow came running at him, and before he realized his danger, she tossed him in the air.

Getting to his feet as quickly as possible, he dodged behind a tree, and then, to his dismay, found that the gun barrel was bent so as to be useless. The next ten minutes were very lively ones, while the cow chased the engineer round and round the tree. Just when he was about to succumb from fatigue, an angry snort was heard, and a big elk appeared upon the scene, head down and prepared for a fight.

So was the cow, and in another moment the two animals dashed at each other. The engineer watched the combat for a few minutes, until prudence suggested that he should make a retreat as soon as he could. He regained the train in safety, and never knew the outcome of the battle, but he hopes the elk was the victor.

F. H. DAY TELLS OF FIFTEEN CENT COTTON

Monday evening F. H. Day representing the Southern States Cotton Corporation, addressed a small audience of business men and farmers at the city hall in the interest of the organization. He presented the plan in a most clear and incisive manner and answered a number of questions put to him by those desiring full information. Mr. Day is a master of his subject, and knew every detail. He is still in the city and will meet with the farmers and business men again Saturday afternoon.

The News desiring to give its readers first hand information on this important subject of so handling the cotton crop that it will always bring 15c, has asked Mr. Day to prepare an article dealing with the subject. He has promised to do so, and in tomorrow's paper it is hoped that this article will appear.

MRS. STEPHEN B. AYRES

Corresponding Secretary of the Woman's National Democratic League.

The Women's National Democratic League, of which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wives of the leading Democratic candidates, are honorary president and honorary vice-president respectively, and Mrs. John S. Crosby is president, has opened headquarters at 1123 Broadway, New York city, in charge of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Stephen B. Ayres, wife of Congressman Ayres of New York.

The work being accomplished daily by Mrs. Ayres and her corps of stenographers and aids is not for the campaign moment only, but foundation building for the future of Democracy. It is the first strictly woman's national political movement to be organized in the United States and, as such, appeals to thinking women everywhere.

"It has not declared for or against the question of equal suffrage nor should it be expected to do so any more than it would discuss the questions of religion," said Mrs. Ayres from her post as "live wire" of the league. "We are simply good Democrats banded together for the greatest good to the greatest number of American housewives, who today are required to pay more in this country for American goods than they would have to pay for the same goods in a foreign land."

She is especially interested in the tariff on articles in constant feminine use and has developed into quite a speaker at the "housewives' meetings of the tariff committee of the national Democratic committee.

"War of Wealth Against Health."

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley declares the most important campaign document yet issued by the Democratic National Committee is a booklet prepared for the Woman's National Wilson and Marshall Organization. It discloses some new and startling facts in connection with the long fight for pure food. It shows how the efforts of the Bureau on Pure Food were blocked by the administration of both Roosevelt and Taft. These booklets are going to be distributed this year throughout the country by the Democratic National Committee.

In the booklet Mrs. Borden Harriman, President of the National Organization, makes a strong appeal to the women of the country, in which she says:

"No subject is more vital to women than health in the home. No function is so essentially the women's function as the protection of the food supply, the protection of sanitary and hygienic working conditions and the general conservation of human life. I therefore appeal to the patriotic women of America for their active participation in the present great fight which is being waged by the Wilson and Marshall campaign in behalf of these measures."

The General Federation of Women's clubs at the biennial conference held June 26-July 6, declared that "the administration of the Department of Agriculture has been and is such that at present the law is prostituted for the benefit of the special interests, and the welfare of the people is ignored," and adopted a resolution calling upon the President to "so organize the department that the Food and Drug Act shall in future be honestly administered in the interest of the consumers of the nation."

The operations of the "Invisible Government" in permitting the adulterators of food to go unprosecuted and thus protecting the interests, is reviewed, and the situation is summed up as follows:

"The law as passed by Congress was intended to be administered in the interest of the consumer. The law as modified by the executive orders of President Roosevelt and President Taft is devoted almost exclusively to the protection of the pocketbook of the producer, showing the triumph of mercenary interests over the welfare of the public."

Old Methods of Rubber Gathering Cost Many Lives.

Peru Failed to Keep Promises Made—Second Paper by Sir Roger Casement Shows Appeals for Reform Have Been Ignored.

London.—A sensational second chapter in the expose by Sir Roger Casement, the British consul-general at Rio Janeiro, who was sent by the British government to the Amazon to investigate stories of outrages on natives in the rubber district, came out recently in the shape of a supplementary report to the foreign office, which shows that there has been practically a total failure on the part of the Peruvian government to respond to the demand for a reform of the rubber atrocities in the Putumayo district, says a London cable.

A mass of official correspondence, which also was filed, completes the story and indicates generally the cordial co-operation of the state department at Washington with the British foreign office to secure a remedy for the abuses.

The second Casement report indicates that Peru not only did nothing, but seemed to have no intention of taking any action. All the measures taken by that government were dilatory and feeble and wholly ineffective.

None of the reforms promised by Peru, according to Sir Roger's report, has been carried out. The civilized methods of the plantation have been abandoned and the old rubber collecting methods resumed. The returns show that the 12,000 tons of rubber collected in 12 years produced from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000 and entailed the death of 30,000 Indians, whose bones are scattered through the forest and have made certain places resemble battlefields.

The responsibility for this, according to Sir Roger, is strictly British, as the whole output of the region is placed on the English market and conveyed from Iquitos in British bottoms. Some employers are British subjects and the commercial future of the district is dependent on British capital.

In July Sir Edward Grey, after soliciting the co-operation of the United States, pressed Peru harder not only to punish the criminals, but to enact legislation making slavery a criminal offense. The president of Peru was reminded of his treaty obligations to Great Britain and was also urged to establish a religious mission in the Putumayo district, with headquarters in Iquitos, with government backing and a substantial subsidy.

Just about this time the United States stepped in and brought pressure to bear on Peru. On June 25, 1911, Dr. Paredes, the head of the Peruvian investigation commission, confirmed all the atrocity stories. Two hundred and fifteen arrest warrants were issued, but there were only four arrests. All the others had naturally used the six months' delay to vanish. The United States at this period was actively urging Peru to realize the reforms. Strong representations made in February, 1912, met with general professions of good intentions by the president of Peru, but the government of that country sought new delay by appointing a new commission to reorganize the administration of the Putumayo district, with orders to report on June 28, 1912. The commission, however, was stillborn, the members refusing to serve. For this reason the patience of the American and British governments finally was exhausted and they decided to appeal to the public sentiment of the world through the publication of Sir Roger Casement's reports.

PEARL BRINGS INDIAN $660

Redskin Sells One Weighing 33% Grains to Marshalltown (Iowa) Dealer.

Marshalltown, Iowa.—Little Big Bear, an Indian from the Meskwaki reservation near Tama, Iowa, sold to a dealer here a pink pear-shaped pearl weighing 33% grains for $660. Little Big Bear found the pearl in the Iowa river near Iowa City. The Indian also sold to the dealer a round pearl found in the same place for $60. Samuel S. Starr of Waverly sold here a 1 1/2 grain pearl, found in the Cedar river, for $410.

Centipede in Her Stomach, Lindsay, Cal.—A live centipede that had been in her stomach for four years was coughed up recently by Mrs. J. A. Means of this city. Mrs. Means had been ill for some time and was dressing to visit a doctor when taken with a coughing spell, during which she brought up the insect.

The centipede was about two inches long. While traveling in Arizona four years ago Mrs. Means drank from a brook and was made ill by something she swallowed. She believes that she has carried the centipede since that time. She has been sick constantly and has spent large sums of money seeking relief.

Since coughing up the insect her neck has been reduced 2 1/2 inches in circumference and her health has much improved.

Novice "Turned Something." Chicago.—W. C. Robinson, student aviator, was taking his instructor's machine to the hangar. The novice "turned something" and was forced to fly for 15 minutes before he could find out how to stop the thing.

Chronic Ulcers Mean Bad Blood

If outside influences were responsible for chronic ulcers, then external applications and simple cleanliness would be a curative treatment. But the trouble is always in the blood which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and infectious matter with which the circulation is filled. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made purer by such treatment and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. Nor will removing the place by surgical operation insure a cure; the cause still remains in the blood and the sore is bound to return. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down into the blood and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. S. S. S. thoroughly purifies the circulation and in this way destroys the source of every chronic ulcer. In addition to purifying the blood S. S. S. enriches this vital fluid and in every way assists nature in overcoming the bad effects of a chronic ulcer. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. American Board Meeting.

Portland, Me., Oct. 8.—The 103rd annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions was opened in the Williston Congregational church here this afternoon with an address of welcome by Rev. Jesse Hill of Portland and a response by Dr. Samuel E. Capen of Boston, president of the board. Upwards of 400 missionaries, Congregational preachers and laymen from all parts of the country were in attendance. Following the exchange of greetings the convention listened to the annual reports of Treasurer Frank H. Higgin and Secretary Cornellus H. Patton and the annual survey of missions presented by Rev. James L. Barton. The reports showed the past year to have been one of activity and prosperity in all departments of the work conducted by the board. The total cash receipts of the year were $1,003,025, which just about equaled the figures of the preceding year. The meeting of the board will continue four days. Many noted missionaries recently returned from foreign fields are here to address the gathering.

Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers" RAMSEY DRUG CO.

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right. So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's ironclad guarantee, backed by ourselves, you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons. We keep in stock and sell all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription, on our positive no-pay guarantee. And, if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge. Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, taken away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent. D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you apply this D. D. D. We have made that friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now on our positive no-pay guarantee. The Fuel Supply Needs Attention Only Three Times Each Day

The makers of Cole's Hot Blast Heater guarantee this stove to hold fire with soft coal 36 hours without attention. Your old stove and imitation stoves leak air and waste fuel because they are not air-tight, because they have putty joints.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

—by means of the patented Hot Blast Draft and other patented features which make it tight, doing away with the use of stove putty—requires less attention than any other heater made.

All fuel—Soft Coal, Hard Coal, Lignite, Wood or Corn Cobs—contains a large amount of gas. Fully one-half of the heating power (carbon) in soft coal is gas. This is the part of the fuel this wonderful heater saves, by burning it with the Top Hot Blast Draft. This makes Cole's Hot Blast Heater the most satisfactory, the most economical, the most convenient heater you can buy. Imitations and other styles of stoves allow this gas-half of the coal to pass up the chimney with the smoke, unburned.

Thousands of these stoves are in use and the sale continues to increase year after year.

This heater will give you more comfort than you ever thought possible by using any kind of a stove which uses soft coal for fuel.

Right now is the time to decide and select the size you should have. Come in and see complete line of styles and sizes.

DECLARES WAR ON TURKEY

Little Montenegro Plunges Into Struggle With Vigor—Others May Follow.

Cettinje, Montenegro, Oct. 8.—Montenegro formally declared war on Turkey this morning.

The declaration of war was delivered to the Porte by the Montenegrin Charge d'Affaires early today.

Heavy fighting is already in progress along the frontier.

M. Plamenatz, the Montenegrin Charge d'Affaires at Constantinople, has been ordered to leave there today.

The Turkish Charge d'Affaires here has been handed his passports by the Montenegrin envoys.

Nine battalions of Turkish troops which are proceeding from Scutari to fight along the Montenegrin frontier were attacked late yesterday by a detachment of Malissori tribesmen.

The fighting began just outside Tusi and continued all night with vigor. The battle still was in progress this morning.

Constantinople, Oct. 8.—Prior to receiving his passports from the Turkish government, the Montenegrin Charge d'Affaires M. Plamenatz, handed a note in behalf of his government to the Porte, in which he said he was "leaving it to the arms of the Montenegrins to secure recognition of their rights and the rights which have been ignored for centuries of their brothers in the Ottoman Empire."

Shortly after presentation of this note, which was accepted as a declaration of war, a council of war took place at the grand vizirate. The session continued late into the night. The city is patrolled by strong detachments of cavalry and infantry. A state of siege prevails and these are much excitement, but no demonstrations are permitted.

M. Plamenatz received instructions Sunday to declare war today, which according to the Russian calendar, is the King of Montenegro's birthday.

The Turkish view, as expressed by officials, is that Turkey was ready to enter into negotiations about the frontier dispute with Montenegro and hence, Montenegro's complaint on this score was a mere pretext to precipitate a conflict before the Powers were able to intervene.

NEWS BRIEFIES.

Muskogee—Sheriff John L. Wisener has resigned his office. The commissioners immediately appointed W. R. Robinson as his successor.

Muskogee—Twenty-seven applicants for license to practice medicine are being examined by the state board.

Pawhuska—The round house of the Midland Valley railroad was burned Saturday night, entailing a loss of $6,500.

Oklahoma City—Wm. M. Pyle Jr., aged 20, shot and killed himself Tuesday morning. It is thought that he had become mentally deranged.

Nowata, Okla.—Harkins, charged with the murder here of Elsie Adams, his sweetheart, and Mr. and Mrs. Artie Hurst, the family with whom she was staying, has been granted bail in the sum of $12,500 and he now is at liberty awaiting another trial, the jury in the case tried last month failing to agree upon a verdict. The case has been continued until the February term of court.

NOTED REPUBLICAN TO SUP- PORT DEMOCRATIC TICKET

New York, Oct. 9.—Dr. J. N. Hurty, Health Officer of Indiana and one of Harvey W. Wiley's most ardent supporters in the public health campaign has come out for Governor Woodrow Wilson, according to information received at the Wilson National Progressive Republican League. Dr. Hurty is a life-long Republican. He will probably take the stump for Governor Wilson in the present campaign, basing his appeal to the voters on the ground that Governor Wilson has shown himself to be in hearty sympathy with Dr. Wiley's pure food campaign.

Another addition to Governor Wilson's ranks is General John H. Peck of Saunterstown, R. I., father of Miss Annie Peck, the explorer and mountain climber. In a letter to Randolph Spreckels, president of the Wilson National Progressive Republican League, General Peck said: "Please place my name upon the membership roll of your League. I was with the Republican Wide Awakes in 1860 and have supported and voted for every republican candidate for the presidency since that date." General Peck served as acting third assistant engineer, U. S. A., for two years during the war.

The School Fund Apportionment.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 9.—Statements have been made by the republican press to the effect that last year the state only contributed about $300,000 to the support of the common schools, and that millions of dollars were spent for the support of the state schools. Investigation of the records show that last year alone the state appropriated more than a million dollars to the common schools and almost an equal amount the year before. We have made an investigation of the records for the past ten years, covering a period of five prior to statehood and five years since statehood. This investigation shows that the state, for five years prior to statehood, appropriated $1,363,142.20 to the support of the common schools. Since statehood, in five years the state has appropriated $3,890,881.95, or an amount more than three times that appropriated in the preceding five years.

For the period from 1908 to 1912 (that the state has been under a democratic administration, the state apportionment for the public schools has increased $2,622,769.66. The state apportionment is principally derived from the revenues of the state school land. The state does not own a foot more land now than it did prior to statehood, the only increase in the source of revenue being the five million dollars appropriated by congress. It will be observed that the 1906 apportionment was made from revenues provided by the foregoing administration since which time they have increased at a remarkable rate. While the scholastic population was more than doubled by the admission of the Indian Territory, yet the per capita apportionments have not decreased but have steadily increased. Respectfully submitted,

R. H. WILSON,
State Superintendent.

INTERESTING BOOK OF ADA

CITY DIRECTORY NOW IN HANDS
OF SUBSCRIBERS. IS A GOOD ONE.

MANY FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Contains Map of City and Plenty of Information for Every Day Use.

The Ada City Directory is now in the hands of the subscribers. It is the work of the News, and we take pleasure in presenting to the people a directory carefully compiled and more complete than that of many large cities. Experienced directory men were employed and every detail carefully checked.

In addition to the regular alphabetical directory this book contains a map of Ada; also an alphabetical street and avenue guide, and under the head of "Miscellaneous" a ready reference on City and County Government, Schools, Churches, Lodges, Labor Unions, etc.

Back of the alphabetical is a complete classified Business Director.

Stoves
Comforts
Blankets
at SMITH'S

and a list of Pontotoc county taxpayers.

No effort has been spared to make this a good directory, and we know the work will be appreciated, and we thank the business men for their liberal support.

The Directory contains 2,692 names deducting 315 firm names, we have 2,377. Using the regular directory multiple of 2 1-2 to allow for women and children, we find the population to be approximately 5,917. This may be a trifle over the last estimate, but for public convenience the Directory includes those at the immediate border of the city.

There are several interesting facts to be found in this Directory, among which we append a few. For instance the Mc's lead the list with the greatest number, 69. The Smiths are second with 32, the Joneses third with 30, and the Johnsons come fourth with 21.

There may be people in the city who believe they have an angel in their home, but there is only one Angel given in the book, and if he has wings he keeps them hid. Eight Bakers appear, but none are working at the trade. There are four Banks given, but no one seems to be running them. There is one Bass, but if you think he is a fish you are mistaken. Four Bells are there, but no one ever heard them ring; also four Belts, but you can't wear them.

There are three Blacks, and all of them are white, while there is one Blue and he is black. There are four Bones, but not dry ones. One Bray appears, but it is not that of a donkey. There are two Byrds, but they do not fly; one Cannon, but it is harmless; two Carre, but neither one is a freight or passenger. One Corn, but it is not on the foot; one Cotton, but it is not a bale. There are three Couches, but they are not to lie on; three Crows, but they do not sit on trees and steal corn; there are only four Days, so there is not enough to make a week; one Duck, but he is not a lame nor a blind one; there are four Dukes, but they are not of any royal family.

One Eagle is here, but he is not a bald one, but the real American. Only one Farmer is shown, and he doesn't farm. There is one Field, and only three Flowers to put in it. Five Fords are here and not a creek within three miles of the city. There are 5 Grangers and not a farmer among them. There are nine Grays and two Greens, but all of them are white.

Seven Guests are here and there are nine Halls for their entertainment; also two Harps and two Hearings, but they are not to be roasted. There are eight Hills, but you can't climb them. Two Hoops, but they are neither for a barrel or keg. Five Hoppers are here and none are grass or ash. One How, but he does not say How are you.

Two Hurts are shown, but they are not dangerous. There are only six Jays in the city, but you can see more if you look close. There are ten Kings but they have no kingdoms. Two Laues, but you can't travel along either one. Three Masons appear and there is not a bricklayer in the bunch. One Meadows is enough for the city. There are sixteen Millers and none working at the trade. There is one Miles, but it must be a long one, because the s is attached.

There is one Nail and a Naler to drive it. There is only one Nation—not Chickasaw, which is a good thing. One Newman, and she is a woman. Seven Prices are here, but they are not "set." There are two Priests, but they seldom, if ever, attend mass.

Two Princes are registered, but it does not state if they are of royal blood. There are two Rivers, both dark, and can only be seen at rare intervals. There are eleven Reeds, but the wind can not blow them at will. Two Robbins are registered, but we can't determine whether they are red breast or not, they were dressed up. One Rock, that is not as big as Little Rock, but much larger than a pebble. Only one Rose appears to perfume and brighten the book. One Rye and you might do well to get on the good side of him. There is one Salmon, but he is not canned. Two Scales, but they do no weighing. Three Sledges that go whether there is snow or not. Sweden also claims residence here, but there is no danger of his taking entire possession of the city. Five Tanners appear in the book, but there is not a tannery within miles of here. Two Weavers seem to be doing well on a farm, and never saw a loom. There are only seventeen Whites given in the Directory, and three of them are colored. The book only gives two Wells, but we know there are more than that in the city.

Altogether it is a pretty good book—full of facts—and little romance in it.

GOLLMAR BROTHERS

CIRCUS COMING SOON

All contracts necessary for the innumerable details connected with the exhibition of the Gollmar Brothers Shows in this city have been completed and this show, which is one of America's largest amusement enterprises, will visit the city at an early date.

It is really a credit and a benefit to any community to have a show of such magnitude and character as the Gollmar Brothers Circus visit it, and its coming to this city at an early date will certainly please the lovers of innocent amusements. The fact that the Gollmar Brothers Shows are in the very foremost rank of such amusements, and in a class exclusive of its own as to exceptional merit, is sure to cause an unusually liberal patronage upon its visit here.

Gollmar Brothers Circus is one of the biggest; it is a ten-acre department store, whose wares consist of amusements. People who patronize the big department stores are not expected to want something in every department, neither is it expected that a spectator at the Gollmar Circus will be able to see every act; but it is expected that he will not have any trouble to find what he likes to see. The management has so arranged its program that acts suitable to the great variety of tastes are always in view throughout the entire performance, which lasts two hours.

The Gollmar Brothers Shows will give two performances under its immense waterproof tents in Ada, Tuesday, October 22. Adv.

Any erroneous reflection on the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the management.

Obituaries and Resolutions of Respect of less than 100 words will be published free. For all matter in excess of 100 words a charge of one cent per word will be made. Count your words and remit with manuscript.

Many men fail in life because when opportunity beckons they are engaged in some frivolity and postpone taking up the chase until tomorrow, which in their cases, never comes.

The News has always been an advocate of the trade-at-home principle. We have devoted innumerable columns to telling Pontotoc people the advantages Ada merchants offer them over Ketchum & Skinnem, mail order magnates of afar-off town. And we shall pursue this policy through all the cycles of time. However, it is discouraging even to a strong-hearted printer, after he has done all these things to go to Mr. Merchant for an order of printing and be told "I can beat your prices by sending to Oklahoma City." Even Jesus, went unto his own and they received him not.

It is a noticeable fact that the man who gets mad and stops his paper is generally a more persistent reader of it after it stopped than before. He simply borrows his neighbor's paper. Something like an old guy who shared a seat on a train with us some years ago. We were reading the Dallas News, and he kept rubbing at it, and finally asked if he might have it. "I ain't got no use for the cussed paper," he declared, "and don't believe a word it says. It has never amounted to shucks. It fought prob-blition in 1887, fought Jim Hogg and Bryan and finally made a fight on Joe Bailey. Durn such a sheet, it ought to be boycotted by every man in the United States. I wouldn't spend a nickel for one." However, when we left the train the old guy had the despatch paper spread out and was reading every line.

Few persons, perhaps, realize how rapidly the price of tariff protected products rose after the passage of the Dingley law. From July 1, 1897, to January 1, 1900, the cost of living advanced 31 per cent, or at the rate of 9 per cent a year. This was during the "era of trusts." More trusts were formed during this time than during any similar period in our history. The price of wire nails rose from $1.36 a keg in August, 1898, to $3.53, in December, 1899—160 per cent in sixteen months. The price of barb wire rose from $1.65 per hundred pounds, in August, 1897, to $4.13 in December, 1899—150 per cent in two years. The price of tin plate rose from $2.80 per box, in November 1898 when the trust was formed, to $4.85, in September, 1899, 73 per cent in ten months. The price of window glass rose from $1.75 a box in April, 1897, to $4.80 in April, 1901, 176 per cent in four years.

NEW YORK AND BOSTON TIE

ELEVEN INNING GAME RESULTS IN SCORE OF 6 TO 6—GAME CALLED ON ACCOUNT OF DARKNESS.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 9.—The second game of the world's series played here this afternoon, resulted in a tie—6 to 6. Eleven innings were played and the game was finally called on account of darkness. New York scored 1 in the second, fourth and tenth inning and 3 in the eighth. Boston scored 3 in the first, and 1 in the fifth, eighth and tenth.

Batteries—New York, Mathewson and Meyers; Boston, Collins, Hall and Carrigan.

Rhode Island Democrats.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 9.—Encouraged by predictions of success at the polls in November, Rhode Island democrats are preparing for an enthusiastic state convention here tomorrow to name candidates for presidential electors and for governor and other state officers. Proceeding the state convention there will be held conventions for the selection of candidates for congress. The possibility of a combination of the democrats and the progressive party, for the purpose of capturing the general assembly at the coming election, has been discussed, but the present indications are that the democrats are not likely to take any steps in this direction. Theodore Francis Green appears to be the strongest candidate for the nomination for governor. Mr. Green belongs to aid Providence family. He has been a practicing attorney in this city for many years and is a trustee of Brown University.

PAID IN FULL.

"Refuse notice." Every editor has received them, says an exchange. The postmaster sends them to the editor. For instance, there is a man by the name of, we'll say, John Brown, who refused to take his paper out of the postoffice. He did not want it longer. We wondered what was the matter, upon investigation of our subscription book we found John was short $5.70. He had stopped the paper as a matter of economy to us. A few evenings ago we stepped into a church yard John's melodious voice rang out clear and loud in soul stirring song, "Jesus Paid It All." We might have been mistaken, but the earnestness impressed us. The next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing he had made arrangements of his liabilities in that way.—Blairtown Herald.

ELECTION OFFICERS MUST FACE TRIAL

Muskogee, Ok., Oct. 8.—Judge Ralph E. Campbell of the United States Court this afternoon denied the application for a writ of habeas corpus made by two election inspectors of Okmulgee county, who are held to the Grand Jury on the charge of conspiring to prevent the negroes from voting in violation of the federal constitution. The court held that he could take no jurisdiction under the habeas corpus procedure, but allowed the defendants their liberty on their bond furnished before the last court action was filed. This means that the cases of the men will have to take their regular course through the federal grand jury.

IMPORTANCE OF HEARD IN ADA.

Bad Backs Made Strong—Kidney Pills Corrected.
All over Ada you hear it, Doan's Kidney Pills are keeping up the good work, curing weak kidneys, driving away backache, correcting urinary ills. Ada people are telling about it—telling of bad backs made sound again. You can believe the testimony of your own townpeople. They tell it for the benefit of you who are suffering. If your back aches, if you feel lame, sore and miserable, if the kidneys act too frequently, or passages are painful, scanty and off color, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that has helped so many of your friends and neighbors. Follow this "Ada citizen's" advice and give Doan's a chance to do the same for you.

Mrs. J. H. Baker, 304 W. Sixteenth St., Ada, Okla., says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills very beneficial for use in case of backache and kidney trouble and I willingly recommend them." They did me a great good and I feel sure that they will benefit any one if taken according to directions.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meets, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it. It may be just the medicine you need.

N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment of Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

The building for the corn shelter being erected by the Ada Milling Co. is nearing completion. It will enable the mill to handle a great deal more Pontotoc county corn than in the past.

COTTON RECEIPTS 2,600 BALES

At 2:30 this (Wednesday) afternoon the yard receipts of cotton for the season amounted to 2,238 bales, which figures are about 2,000 bales short of last season at this time. The found bale gin has turned out 725, equal to 363 square bales, giving a grand total of 2,601 bales. Mr. Hill, the weigher, says it is now coming in at the rate of 150 bales per day, which is about the same as this time a year ago. However, the season is considerably later than it was last year, which accounts for the difference.

The price continues to fall at a most discouraging rate, the quotations on the street this afternoon being from 10-75 to 11c and 3-90 in the seed.

New Industrial Material.

As the result of many years of experimenting in England, a new substitute for hard rubber, gutta percha and leather has been announced. It is a product of seaweed. The new material is said to be especially useful in the electrical industries, being a nonflammable insulation of high dielectric strength, proof against heat, cold, oil and weather.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM THE NORMAL

The enrollment is increasing at the Normal daily. Seven new students came in Tuesday, and one or two others today. It seems now that East Central is to be behind none in the number students as well as in other things. This seems to indicate that the policy of the school, thoroughness, is to win in time.

Pres. Briles has just returned from a visit to the Hanna schools. Prof. A. C. Bray, whom most of the people of Ada remember as a member of the last graduating class, is superintendent. Prof. and Mrs. Bray are "making good."

And still the beautifying of the campus goes on. All the north and east part is now undergoing a thorough change. The concrete walk has been extended entirely around the building, flower beds are being built in the most prominent places, and all the underbrush on the hill side back of the Normal will be cleared out in the near future. Indeed the appearance of East Central is to be a thing of beauty.

The green house, which is now under construction, will be completed within the next few days. The flowers for this winter have already been ordered. Pres. Briles states that we shall have plenty of flowers for decoration purposes before a great while. Everything possible is being done making this a place where the teacher will have an opportunity of developing the artistic as well as the useful side of his life.

uly and students, Pres. Briles stated a few days ago that we have $1,500 more to spend for library books. Already the small library is one of the most useful in the state, but this additional amount will bring it up to the very best. When these books are placed in the California red wood shelves, the appearance of the library room will be something to be proud of.

The debating club, the Y. W. C. A. and other similar organizations of the school are taking on new life. The officers are all enthusiastic to make each organization the strongest, and it seems that all are to be great forces in the student life.

It is gratifying to the students as well as to the faculty to learn that all the members of the last graduating class are doing good work in the school room. With two exceptions, all are doing high school work. Of these two exceptions one is in the University and the other is in our own city. East Central graduates are well prepared for any high school work, and it is a pleasure to know that they are taking their right places in the educational field.

When in town don't forget to visit the Palace Cafe, the home of good things to eat. Cool rooms in connection. Your patronage respectfully solicited. Under new management. Mrs. M. McDaniel and S. K. Smith, Props. 154-1f

Classified Advertising Divides This Paper's Readers Into Four Different Groups!

One group of readers will read all of the Situations Wanted Ads—because every person in that group is looking for a worker!

A second group of readers will read all of the Furnished Rooms To Let Ads—because every person in the group is looking for a furnished room.

A third group will read all of the Real Estate Ads—because every person in the group is a prospective buyer of real estate.

A fourth group will read all of the Business Opportunities Ads—because this group consists of people who MAKE THEIR MONEY WORK FOR THEM—and who are ALWAYS looking for GOOD JOBS FOR DOLLARS!

Thus every classification draws to itself a group of readers, influenced by self-interests to everyone of whom that classification of ads means PERSONAL OPPORTUNITIES.

Your classified ad, therefore, has an audience awaiting it—an audience of alert people, anxious to consider your offer or your want, and to do business with you if your proposition is plausible.

Beautiful Hair.

Archives Adams, leading woman with Gilmor Brown in "The Prisoner of Zenda," to appear at the Ada Opera house, Thursday evening, has unquestionably the most wonderful head of hair of any girl on the stage. It may be of interest to women in general to note the following rules Miss Adams gives for the application of which has been extremely beneficial in her case:

1. Brush your hair night and morning with a long bristle brush, with ample space between the bristles.
2. Wash your hair not oftener than once every four weeks, using the best quality of castile soap, and drying your hair thoroughly in the old-fashioned way, avoiding electric fans and heated air, both of which tend to dry up the oil ducts at the roots.
3. Give your hair plenty of sun shine.
4. Avoid doing your hair up tightly, especially when retiring.
5. Arrange your hair loosely in two braids before retiring.
6. Massage the scalp very gently every night for a few minutes before retiring.

Total Eclipse of the Sun. Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—There is to be a total eclipse of the sun tomorrow, but few persons in the United States and none in Canada will have an opportunity to view the phenomenon. Residents of southern Florida, if conditions are favorable, will be treated to a partial performance by old Sol when he hides himself behind the moon.

The path of totality will cross South America from a point near Quito, Ecuador, to Rio Janeiro, Brazil. The best place, it is figured, for observing the eclipse will be in the vicinity of the Brazilian metropolis. Here the astronomers from America and Europe have set up instruments with long, unpronounceable names to take observations during the two minutes' duration of the total phase.

A total eclipse is of popular interest because as a mere spectacle it is one of the most beautiful presented to human eyes. But the problems uppermost in the minds of the scientists in connection with solar eclipses are those relating to the sun's corona which can be seen only when the sun is hidden by the moon. It is an appendage to the sun, consisting of very tenuous gases chiefly, and apparently kept out in its position by a repellent power of the sun.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Good Teeth, Their Importance and Care—By Madame Millefleurs.

"Just think of having to sit opposite that woman at the breakfast table," said a man to me recently, when I asked him why he had not been impressed with a girl who is distinguished for her fascination of manner and quick wit.

"Why!" I exclaimed, "I should think you would be delighted to face such a charming personality and dimpling smile as she possesses."

"That's just it," he answered. "If only she wouldn't smile. I confess that the sight of a lot of gold-filled teeth every time a woman opens her mouth fills me with horror, and nowadays such exhibitions are unnecessary."

"Do you mean that a woman must not smile?" I inquired, solicitously.

"Certainly not," he answered with conviction. "She may smile as often as she likes, the oftener the better. But when her lips part she must show perfect teeth."

"Gracious! How can we all have perfect teeth?" was my anxious question, as I drew my upper lip down over two small gold fillings.

"All you have to do," he answered, "is to have a reputable dentist on your list. If your mother neglected your teeth when you were small, and you have continued the abuse, tell him that you want to change a set of teeth that may be unsightly from fillings, tartar or decay to a row of white, even teeth that will match your complexion."

When I got home that evening, I examined my teeth carefully with the aid of a hand glass and as a result I decided to that my dentist should take out the gold from those poor little cavities and replace it with something that would not show.

As a rule, I have found dentists the most taciturn of men, probably because I never evinced much interest in their conversation, but before I sat down in the chair I explained to the doctor that the readers of this paper would certainly be much interested in anything a practitioner of standing and experience might say about teeth, for it goes without question that the woman beautiful understands that, outside of the very important question of health, there is nothing contributing more to facial beauty than gold teeth.

"In nothing have corrected therapeutics and surgery made greater strides in the last fifteen years than in the practice of dentistry," said the doctor, "for although lead fillings were found in the teeth of Egyptian mummies, and prosthetic dentistry is over two hundred years old, yet it is only within the last twenty years that the science has been brought to any degree of perfection."

"Many operations which were formerly distressing are now rendered painless, and within the last year a Chicago dentist has perfected a method of filling the teeth which is quite wonderful in its improvement over the old way."

"Ordinary dental operations are here performed with only a slight discomfort to the patient, and within the last few years teeth have been extracted and nerves extirpated by the aid of local anesthesia, entirely without pain. Since its discovery the X-ray has been used, not only to diagnose, but as a therapeutic agent in dentistry, and has been found to possess valuable healing properties in cases of diseased tissues and skin maladies."

"Although the transplanting of a natural tooth from one jaw to another has been attempted for more than a century, it is only within the last few years that it has been done successfully. Five years ago Germany brought out an artificial enamel for filling teeth, which is giving good satisfaction, and is particularly pleasing to the patient, because the natural shade of the tooth may

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The wise woman realizes this and takes precautions to preserve her health and strength through the period of child bearing. She remains a pretty mother by avoiding as far as possible the suffering and dangers of such occasions. This every woman may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. been employed for 25 or 30 years, but it is only within the last 15 years that it has been brought to its present degree of utility. This process obviates the continual source of annoyance which the old-fashioned plate occasioned people wearing artificial teeth. One can have an upper and a lower set of teeth put on by the crown and bridge method and be perfectly unaware of any foreign substance in his mouth. Nowadays it is only in cases where there are no teeth at all in the jaws to furnish abutments for bridges that the old-fashioned plate work is employed by the up-to-date practitioner. With this method, however, a man must use his mechanical ingenuity in solving entirely new problems every time he is called upon to provide a mouth with crown and bridge work.

The most recent achievement in modern dentistry is the use of the cast gold inlay, which was perfected by a Chicago dentist. By this method the patient is relieved of the long, nervous strain of sitting in a chair with the rubber dam gagging her, while a filling is being pounded into the cavities of her teeth. In the use of the cast gold inlay, after the dentist has prepared the cavity, he takes a piece of wax and crushes it into the tooth, molding it into the exact shape he wishes his finished inlay to be. He removes this wax filling and invests it in a material which will not shrink in intense heat. Into this mold, with compressed air, he forces his gold. He polishes the inlay before putting it into the tooth and in a few moments it is cemented into the cavity.

Another advantage about the gold inlay is that it may be employed in teeth so frail that the shell would collapse under the hammering process. It has also been found that teeth do not decay around the inlay, as they often do in the case of the ordinary gold filling.

About twelve years ago a Philadelphia dentist placed so much stress upon the proper care of the teeth that he stopped all practice of dentistry except keeping the teeth clean. He explained to his patients that if they would come to him every 90 days, he would insure them teeth free from decay. With a very few exceptions, such as, when the patient was in ill health, he was able to live up to his promises. His method is very simple. He uses among other things an orange wood stick, to clean the surface of the tooth as well as the interstices. This he dips into an antiseptic solution and pumice stone, and goes carefully all over the teeth with it. He also uses a great deal of dental silk, to make sure that nothing lodges between the teeth, and lastly he washes the mouth out with an antiseptic lotion. The importance of using dental silk between the teeth cannot be over-estimated. It should be used every day, as it dislodges and removes particles of food that cannot be reached by the tooth brush.

People who have fleshy cheeks should use tooth brushes with shorter bristles at the end than at the handle. These are fashioned in directly the opposite way from those that are most in use and which are particularly good for all mouths except those for fleshy persons.

The teeth should be brushed at the morning toilet, and always just before retiring, because at night the process of decay is more constant than at any other time on account of decomposing food which may be lodged in the interstices. During the day the tongue coming against the teeth and the saliva washing the places between them, keep up a constant cleaning process.

My dentist advised a bottle of peroxide of hydrogen and a bottle of listerine, and recommended the use of a teaspoonful of each in a glass of water to be used as a mouth wash each morning.

When people have an excess of acid in the saliva, a half-teaspoonful of bi-carbonate of soda in a half glassful of water makes a good wash for the mouth at night—or milk of magnesia may be used.

"People who have fleshy cheeks which will not scratch the enamel is necessary at least once a day, but one should be very careful in brushing the teeth. A constant brushing across the teeth will make the gums recede. The teeth should be brushed from the gum toward the cutting edge."

To merely brush the teeth across vigorously is apt to produce disastrous results and force the gums away from them.

The brush should be made to rotate against the surfaces of the teeth, coming in contact with the gums and teeth of the upper jaw only on the down stroke, and vice versa. There should, of course, be some cross brushing, against certain surfaces in the mouth where the rotary motion cannot well be employed, but every one should be very careful not to injure the gums by too much cross brushing at the point where their free margin covers the teeth. Still, while some individuals are doing
